Trio travels from Wichita to Omaha

► Home Organ Spectacular features workshops, concerts

Cindy Houston, president of Garten's Music, and two Lowrey students recently traveled to Omaha, Neb., for the Lowrey Home Organ Spectacular.

Dennis Awe and various Lowrey artists were on hand to provide concerts and workshops for participants. Sue Maurer and Nancy Wiard joined Houston during the trip in May.

Maurer said she picked up some tips and enjoyed the Lowrey artists' differing personalities and styles.

"I'd recommend it to someone else," she added. "I enjoyed it. And I think it was because they had the mix of the workshops and the concerts."

Maurer and Wiard each received a music book that they could use to take notes during the workshops and then play the music when they returned home.

"It's a nice book and it has good music in it, so that was a good idea," Maurer said. "I really liked it. It was a fun weekend."

Lowrey visitors perform, teach students

Lowrey students enjoy the concert.

Lowrey's Bob Ashworth and Chuck Wright visited Wichita on April 30 and May 1! They were guests at Garten's Music, where they helped our Lowrey students become more familiar with their instruments and other models. Wright also performed a concert for our students at Best Western Wichita North.

Music Academy students comment on their progress

"I am amazed. It seems like everything just fell together so well that we found Garten's Music and the Wichita Music Academy and she was assigned to Glenn (Swindler, teacher). They work so well together. He makes it fun!" – Sandi, writing about her 9-year-old granddaughter

"I know that she really likes coming in and pulling out all of the benches and playing all of the beautiful pianos in the store. This was a wonderful experience for her! I am so thankful to everyone for making us feel so welcomed." – Elizabeth, writing about her 5-year-old daughter
